QUICK AND CONSISTENT AUTOMATED LOAN FUNCTIONALITY

CGI's HORIZON™ Loan Origination solution assists lenders in selecting loan products and options best suited to individual customer needs. Loan Origination retrieves all of the customer demographic and financial information available in the host banking system (in addition to any extraneous customer information from a prior loan origination system) and automatically creates and funds the loan following the approval process. Supporting term loans, mortgages, credit card applications, secured and unsecured lines of credit, overdrafts and small business loans, Loan Origination satisfies all consumer lending needs.

Application overview

HORIZON Loan Origination works with your banking system to support both new and existing customers. For existing customers, real-time information, name and address, and real-time balances are retrieved and displayed from the banking system's database. Loan Origination uses existing information within the banking system and any from prior applications without the need for extracts or data entry. Once approved, loans can be automatically booked and disbursed directly through to your banking system.

In addition, Loan Origination's customer overview component calculates a comprehensive net worth, amalgamating all financial accounts from the banking system and credit bureau, as well as additional accounts captured during the application process. This reuse of information eliminates the need to rekey data by the lender. Following the logical path of Loan Origination, the lender can easily step through all the required stages of an application from start to finish.

Loan Origination is a Web-based application designed and built using common Internet technologies, open components and JEE specifications. The client requires only a standard browser and JRE for system access. The application supports ongoing feature enhancements and additional internal and external interfaces.

Integration

Integration is a key requirement for loan processing. HORIZON Loan Origination is currently integrated with two core banking solutions (CGI's HORIZON™ Financial Suite and RFS™ Retail Banking solution) and can be integrated with other banking solutions. In addition, Loan Origination is currently integrated with Equifax, CUMIS iCLIC, CRM for PPSA registrations, CMHC and MemberDirect®. CFS Qwiklend has been integrated into Loan Origination's auto decision component. Integration with additional third-party services is in progress.

Legislation and audit

HORIZON Loan Origination is maintained to keep up with changes to legislative requirements, including cost of credit reporting requirements. An internal audit process tracks all key activities within the application. In addition, any detrimental change to an approved application will be automatically recorded and requires the lender to reapprove the loan.

Lending documents

Using Adobe PDF as a document manager, HORIZON Loan Origination pre-populates your custom documents to complete the lending process.
