Solutions for State and Local Government

TRUST IN THE RESULTS

With CGI, states have collected and recovered billions of tax dollars, reduced and contained costs, increased efficiency and effectiveness, and improved accountability.

- Five states have increased revenue collection by more than $1.5 billion
- Twenty states and municipal governments have saved an average of 15% of procurement costs through improved contracts
- Over 190 state and local governments better manage $500 billion in public funds for 93 million citizens
- More than 25,000 social service caseworkers can better protect the children and families in their care
- Virginia, with the largest state e-government marketplace, reduced procurement processing time up to 70%, ordering processing costs by up to 50% and delivery time by up to 25%

CGI: HELPING GOVERNMENT FULFILL ITS MISSION TO CITIZENS

State and local governments today face a “perfect storm” of increasing budgetary concerns, tightly constrained resources, changing priorities and rising demand for services. Citizens expect more government services while seeking increased transparency and accountability. As federal, state and local priorities and mandates evolve, government agencies must constantly adapt to meet new standards.

Partnering for success with CGI

Working side-by-side with state and local governments in this daunting environment, CGI helps deliver on these promises every day. Founded in 1976, CGI has worked with 44 states and more than 300 local governments to better serve millions of citizens. CGI solutions enable state and local clients to reduce and contain costs; increase revenue collections; improve operational efficiency, accountability and effectiveness; and transform government service delivery.

Client commitment

As the challenges of government evolve, CGI adapts. By listening and collaborating with clients, we develop and continuously improve upon best-fit strategies and market-leading solutions. The expertise we bring to each challenge comes from more than 30 years of working within and for hundreds of state and local agencies.
