SOAR

What is SOAR?

CGI's SOAR (Strategic Onboarding Assimilation and Readiness) Program is an innovative initiative providing recent college graduates the opportunity to join CGI, the fifth largest independent IT and business process service company in the world. We are committed to helping our clients succeed, providing our professionals with rewarding careers, and offering shareholders superior returns.

We have the same passion about the success of our SOAR Program participants.

SOAR is not just a training program, it is the first step to an exciting career. Read on to learn how this program can help launch your career!

How the program works

As a SOAR participant, you will:

- Start your career at one of CGI's IT Centers of Excellence in Alabama, Ohio, Texas, or Virginia
- Participate in intensive training that provides in-depth understanding of a variety of industry-specific technologies
- Learn about CGI's various business lines, including telecommunications, healthcare, financial services, utilities, oil and gas, and government, among others
- Receive a personal mentor to help guide you through any career-related challenges and help you create a personalized professional development plan.

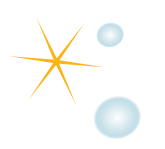

Program perks

- On-the-job and classroom training
- Professional networking
- Exposure to a culture that welcomes new ideas and encourages information sharing
