BUSINESS AND TECHNICAL EXPERTISE COUPLED WITH EXTENSIVE EXPERIENCE

CGI Federal offers over 30 years of federal government experience and business and technical expertise for agencies wishing to exploit the streamlined procurement capabilities of Treasury's Total Information Processing Support Services (TIPSS-3) contract. CGI Federal provides services in all principal task areas through prime and subcontracting arrangements, providing both depth and breadth of support while also helping agencies to meet their small business procurement targets.

TIPSS-3 is a $3 billion, multiple-agency, indefinite delivery/indefinite quantity contract. Through the TIPSS-3 contract, Treasury contracting officers and specialists assist agencies in quickly competing work and issuing task orders. The program is available for use nationwide and overseas by all Treasury components and all federal agencies. TIPSS-3 supports a broad spectrum of business and systems services in three principal areas:

- Strategic Business Services, such as BPR; change management; IV&V; 508 (accessibility) compliance; program and project management; quality management; and others
- Information System Services, including system design, development, customization and implementation; training; requirements analysis; configuration management; and other IT/IS-related services
- System Security Services including planning; disaster recovery; continuity of operations planning; assessment and management of IT risks, threats and internal controls; PKI and digital signatures; and additional system and data security services

CGI Federal has helped hundreds of government agencies modernize and enhance the value of services they provide to citizens and businesses and to ensure those interactions are efficient, convenient and secure. As a TIPSS-3 prime contractor, we leverage our worldwide government experience to deliver high-quality IT and business solutions in the most cost-effective manner.
