

Steve Bock, B.A.Sc., MBA

Partner/Director, CGI Healthcare Solutions Group

Atlanta, GA

Mr. Bock joined CGI in 2008 as Director of CGI's Healthcare Solutions Group. He has overall responsibility for directing and managing the delivery of CGI Health IT solutions and services to commercial healthcare provider clients.

Throughout his career, Mr. Bock has had progressive responsibility for leading businesses with revenues in excess of $100M through start-up, survival, turnaround and growth modes. He brings over 20 years of experience in the planning, design, development and delivery of complex enterprise software solutions.

Prior to his current role, Mr. Bock was a Vice President with McKesson responsible for leading an entrepreneurial team to innovate new software products leveraging emerging technologies to transform the healthcare experience, reduce medical errors and improve the quality of patient care. His product portfolio included McKesson's clinical portal and mobility solutions used by hospital and physician practice clinicians to access patient electronic health records, place orders, review clinical results and capture charges. Under his leadership the company's flagship Physician Portal adoption rate increased over ten fold to over 5 million logins per month and over 150,000 users.

Mr. Bock has also held leadership roles with industry leading technology companies and consulting firms including Accenture, Ernst & Young, Hewlett-Packard and PeopleSoft. Prior to his focus on the healthcare industry, he spent 7 years implementing Enterprise Resource Planning solutions including SAP R/3 and PeopleSoft for some of the largest Fortune 500 corporations.

Mr. Bock received his Executive MBA from Emory University's Goizueta Business School in Atlanta and has an undergraduate engineering degree in Systems Design from the University of Waterloo, Canada. Steve lives in Atlanta with his wife, Nancy, and three young daughters.
