

Ratabase360

CGI's SaaS-based rating and product configuration solution is designed to modernize insurance pricing.

CGI's Ratabase360 accelerates your ability to get your products to market while reducing your operating costs. The solution's intuitive and functionally-rich browser interface empowers business users to manage all aspects of the rate making process with no need for IT involvement. In addition, pre-built APIs enable the automation of processes such as filings, workflows and testing. Ratabase360 delivers the power to rate policy transactions for any line of business in real time, processing thousands of data items per transaction to ensure accurate pricing.

Ratabase360 supports the experimentation, simulation, analysis, and promotion of rates through an integrated toolset, improving efficiencies, confidence and pricing innovation and accuracy through multiple data sources.

It also enables product deployment across a diverse distribution network with the click of a button, and then monitors product performance in real time.

Key features

Scalable architecture: As a SaaS solution, Ratabase360 leverages the capabilities of the cloud to deliver a scalable and resilient architecture to meet the demands of your growing enterprise.

Market integration: The solution's integration function drives profitability through accelerated integration with new distribution partners, insurtechs, or data providers.
