

Is your organisation ready to move from AI hype to measurable impact?

AI success depends on strong foundations and the ability to move from ambition to action and results.

Use this quick checklist to assess your AI maturity and see which of our free data and AI strategy workshops is the right next step.

1. Strategy and vision

- Do you have a clear vision for how AI supports your business goals?
- Are AI initiatives aligned with your organisation's wider strategy?
- Have you defined success measures (ROI, efficiency and customer outcomes)?

2. Data and technology foundations

- Is your data accessible, trustworthy and governed effectively?
- Do you have the right platforms and infrastructure in place (cloud, data platforms and analytics tools)?
- Are your AI pilots connected to real business processes, not siloed experiments?

3. Organisation and culture

- Is there leadership commitment to embedding AI across the business?
- Are employees engaged and open to adopting AI-driven ways of working?
- Do you have processes in place for change management and adoption?

4. Delivery and execution

- Do you have a structured way to prioritise AI use cases?
- Are you able to turn ideas into execution-ready opportunities?
- Do you have the capability to move from pilots to scaled adoption?

5. Governance and risk

- Are you addressing regulatory and ethical considerations (e.g. EU AI Act)?
- Do you have oversight of risks to data quality, bias or model explainability?
- Are accountability and governance frameworks clear across teams?

Your position

Most organisations find they are stronger in some areas than others. Your answers will indicate which workshop is the overall best starting point for you.

If you answered mostly yes: You are well positioned to scale AI. The next step is project selection and execution with a Choose Workshop.

If you answered a mix of yes and no: You have solid foundations, but you may be struggling with alignment or scaling. A Shape Workshop can help focus your efforts.

If you answered mostly no: You are in the early stages. Start with an Imagine Workshop to help build clarity, explore opportunities and align leadership around a shared vision.

Ready to progress?

Whether you're exploring possibilities, shaping ideas, or prioritising investments, we help you move forward with clarity and confidence. Our free data and AI strategy workshops are designed to help you:
