

License2Share

Oil and gas companies have always entered into joint ventures to protect and grow their businesses. Today, collaboration has become an increasingly important aspect of their joint venture strategies and management. Collaboration ensures better knowledge sharing, decision-making, governance, security and compliance when it comes to handling multiple, complex joint venture relationships.

CGI understands the joint venture lifecycle and the role of collaboration in improving joint venture success. We offer an industry-leading, cloud-based collaboration solution for joint ventures called License2Share. License2Share brings together joint venture parties with disparate applications, processes and data to form a single, secure platform for effective collaboration.

FEATURES

License2Share manages joint venture licenses, partner reporting and regulatory compliance throughout the lifetime of a joint venture. Key features include the following:

- Single platform for information sharing: Enables secure sharing of information from disparate systems among joint venture partners via a single platform, improving efficiencies, access, and version control.
- Role-based dashboard: Enables joint venture administrators to manage and share licenses via a role-based dashboard; roles (for committees, groups and individual users) and authorization levels are easy to set up and manage.
- Reporting: Shared content is organized in a way that makes reporting fast and efficient; when reports need to be run, data from multiple sources (e.g., exploration and production) can be accessed, aligned, transformed and shared with all authorized parties, including authorities.
- Cloud-based solution: Offered as a cloud service, making it highly suited to address the issues arising from changing partnerships, assets, processes and data volumes.
- Security and identity management: Robust security and identity management capabilities ensure controlled access to information and secure information sharing on a need-to-know basis.
