

Send your productivity into orbit

Space travel is one step closer for the average Joe. Virgin Galactic has successfully completed a third supersonic test flight of SpaceShipTwo (SS2), a rocket-powered vehicle that will be taking passengers into space and back, perhaps as soon as 2014. In exchange for $250,000, 'Future Astronauts' can book a seat on the next available flight out of Spaceport America and dreams will, literally, come true. Before launch, Future Astronauts will be treated to trips to Branson's Necker Island in the Caribbean, G-force training and a seat on test flights over the Mojave Desert. It's not technically a package holiday — you have to get there under your own steam and arrange accommodation — but it serves the same purpose.

Today, 40 per cent of the European regional travel market is made up of package holiday-makers enjoying a wide variety of opportunities to achieve goals and expand horizons. We tell the tour operator what we want: adrenaline and wild animals, endless entertainment for excitable children, or enlightening exploration of ancient architecture: and they make it possible. Tour operators often offer travel insurance; so with a deal you get all you want and a guarantee of security. You get the chance to enjoy your holiday without the hassle of planning transport, accommodation and itineraries: you can focus on the fun knowing you're in safe hands.

When it comes to IT infrastructure, a similar approach makes sense. Every business needs a reliable infrastructure that enables easy communication, collaboration and complete security and we have created the IL3 ONE Office Productivity Suite with this in mind.

IL3 ONE Office Productivity Suite brings together Microsoft software that you need for effective communication and collaboration. It's delivered as a service via the CGI Secure Government Cloud with the business impact level security that you need. It's made up of three core components — ONE Exchange provides secure email access options, ONE Lync delivers streamlined communication systems and ONE SharePoint is a collaboration tool allowing you to bring email, notes and shared documents together. Each one works with ONE File, a centralised secure file sharing service which provides storage for backend productivity services.

The best of all worlds, in one simple package.
